PUBLIC NOTICE FOR AN INTERNATIONAL CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR THE POST OF DOCTORAL RESEARCHER

Portuguese Version

Application Reference: 2023.15056.TENURE.066 | Principal Researcher in Nursing Ethics and Palliative Care
Principal Researcher | Universidade Católica Portuguesa

1. Framework

The Rector of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, Prof. Dr. Isabel Capelo Gil, hereby announces the opening of an international call for applications for one vacancy of doctoral researcher principal, with an exclusivity clause, to perform duties of scientific research, in the scientific field of Nursing Ethics and Palliative Care. The research activities will be carried out at the Centro de Investigação Interdisciplinar em Saúde (CIIS), integrated at the Faculdade de Ciências da Saúde e Enfermagem of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, in Porto within the framework of the FCT-Tenure first edition call by the Foundation for Science and Technology, I.P. (FCT,IP), and its call procedure (articles 17, 19 and 28 of the Regulamento do Emprego Científico – REC).

The position of Principal Researcher in Health Sciences, Nursing Ethics, and Palliative Care aims to conduct high-quality research and contribute to academic training in the field, fostering knowledge generation to improve the quality of palliative care and the integration of ethics into clinical practice. The holder of this position will lead innovative research, addressing symptom management, quality of end-of-life care, ethical decision-making processes, caregiver support, intervention effectiveness, and the impact on patients' and families' quality of life. Interdisciplinary collaboration will be a core focus, fostering partnerships with professionals from various fields, including medicine, psychology, social work, and public health, to develop comprehensive care models and complex healthcare interventions. The Principal Researcher will be responsible for securing competitive funding, consolidating a research team, and expanding strategic projects in the field. Knowledge dissemination will be promoted through high-impact scientific publications, conferences, and knowledge translation to clinical practice and health policies, ensuring that research findings lead to concrete improvements in patient care. This position represents a strategic investment by the Faculty of Health Sciences and Nursing in advancing specialization in palliative care and nursing ethics, with the goal of creating and leading a center of research excellence. The position holder should demonstrate scientific leadership and internationalization, promoting interdisciplinary and intersectoral projects to assess the clinical, ethical, and sociocultural impact of palliative care within healthcare systems. The research to be developed will focus on three key areas: (i) Improving supportive, palliative, and end-of-life care for cancer patients; (ii) Developing novel approaches to palliative and end-of-life care for non-cancer patients; (iii) Ethics in science with and for society. This position reinforces the institution's commitment to innovation and excellence in health research, promoting improved care for vulnerable populations and ensuring dignity for patients and their families.

2. Framework and Applicable Legislation

This selection procedure is open under the FCT-Tenure funding instrument, with the aim of promoting the hiring of doctoral graduates for permanent positions through integration into the research career.

This selection procedure is governed by the terms of the Statute of the Teaching and Research Career of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, hereinafter ECDI-UCP, and other regulations and statutes associated to the first FCT Tenure call, and applicable labour legislation.

3. Workplace

The workplace is located at the Universidade Católica Portuguesa facilities of the Porto.

4. Remuneration

The gross monthly pay is €3.950,17 plus meal allowance, to which will be added annual leave and Christmas allowances.

5. Admission requirements

5.1. Framework.

5.1.1- Eligibility of the candidates

Only national, foreign, or stateless candidates who hold a doctoral degree can submit their application. If the Doctoral Degree has been awarded by a non-Portuguese higher education institution, said degree, to be eligible, must comply with the provisions of the Portuguese legislation on the recognition of foreign degrees, as set out in Decree-Law no. 66/2018 of August 16th. Entering into a contract with the selected candidate is conditional to the submission of the formal document. For additional information on this matter candidates are advised to check the website of the Directorate-General for Higher Education (DGES): <https://www.dges.gov.pt/en/pagina/degree-and-diploma-recognition>.

The following will also determine the exclusion of the application:

- i. Applications from PhD holders with permanent employment positions in the careers of Scientific Research, University Teaching and Polytechnic Higher Education Teaching, and those with permanent positions in national institutions not covered by the Career Statutes, will not be eligible for this support.
- ii. Failure to comply with the deadline for submission of the application.
- iii. Failure to submit, or submitting after the deadline, any of the documents required in the application formalization process.
- iv. The applications that do not meet the requirement to be presented in English.

5.1.2. System for assessment of the merit of the application

In the first phase of the evaluation process, applications will be assessed based on absolute merit. To this end, the jury deliberates on approval on absolute merit based on the requirements indicated in this notice. Absolute merit is expressed by the formulas “rejected” or “approved”.

Once the aforementioned admission phase of the competition has ended, the panel begins to assess the relative merit of the applications approved on absolute merit, taking into account the selection requirements and criteria set out in the notice.

To this end, each member of the jury must produce a written document, duly substantiated, which will be attached to the minutes of the respective meeting, with the final classification on a numerical scale of 0 to 100 obtained by each candidate, based on the evaluation criteria and parameters, and corresponding weighting factors, as set out in this notice. Each member of the jury orders the candidates in descending order of merit, and based on their ordered list of candidates participates in the voting for 1st place, then for 2nd place, and so on, until all candidates approved on absolute merit have been ranked. No abstentions will be permitted.

Once the application of the selection methods has been completed, the jury prepares the provisional unitary list for ranking the candidates. All candidates will be notified electronically via the email address provided for the purpose of holding a Hearing of interested parties, as provided for in item 10 of this notice. After this period or after the Hearing of interested parties has taken place, the panel, in a subsequent meeting, will assess, if applicable, the allegations presented and approve the final list.

5.2. Admissibility and selection requirements

5.2.1- Eligibility requirements for the purposes of assessing the absolute merit of the application

- a) Holders of a Doctoral degree in Nursing or Health Sciences.
- b) Participation as Principal Investigator in at least one research project funded by relevant entities (such as the FCT, European Union, among others), in the areas of Health Sciences, Ethics, Palliative Care, or in innovative and interdisciplinary healthcare approaches for vulnerable populations.
- c) Post-doctoral experience or research contract in Health Sciences, Nursing, Ethics, or Palliative Care.
- d) Have published at least five scientific articles in journals indexed in SCOPUS in the last five years, with an emphasis on Health Sciences, ethics and palliative care.
- e) Participation in the development of at least two activities, for the extension and dissemination of knowledge, with a special focus on the promotion of scientific culture and the connection between research and society.

5.2.2- Specific requirements for the purposes of assessing the relative merit of the application.

5.2.2.1. Scientific and technological outputs

- a) Publications carried out, evaluated by their number, relevance and impact, including articles in journals indexed in international reference databases (SCOPUS and Web of Science, especially Q1/Q2), book chapters and books in the area of Health Sciences, nursing ethics and palliative care.
- b) Impact of scientific production through the number of citations and bibliometric metrics, including the h-index and the impact factor of the journals where the articles were published, valuing the influence and dissemination of the knowledge generated.
- c) Coordination and participation in research projects will be carefully evaluated, considering leadership or involvement in competitively funded projects at national and international level, which demonstrate scientific, clinical and social impact in the area of palliative care and ethics in nursing.
- d) Ability to attract funding for research, namely through the submission and obtaining of funding from national and international organizations, evidencing the competitiveness and sustainability of the research developed.

5.2.2.2. Applied or practice-based research activities

- a) Implementation of knowledge transfer initiatives for clinical practice, with a direct impact on palliative care.
- b) Active participation in international research networks, promoting collaborations and scientific exchanges.
- c) Leadership of interdisciplinary research teams, with demonstrable results in securing competitive funding and in the development of evidence-based policies or practices.
- d) Coordination or participation in the development of evidence-based clinical guidelines for palliative care.
- e) Collaboration with hospitals, palliative care units, and research centers to translate scientific knowledge into clinical practice.
- f) Scientific review activities, including roles as a reviewer for indexed scientific journals, with involvement in the evaluation of projects and/or articles in the areas of Health Sciences, Nursing, Ethics, and Palliative Care.

5.2.2.3. Extension activities and knowledge dissemination activities

- a) Clinical and/or outreach activities aligned with the strategic objectives of the Interdisciplinary Research Center in Health (CIIS) and the Faculty of Health and Nursing Sciences, with a focus on interdisciplinarity and societal impact.
- b) Supervision of master's dissertations and doctoral theses in the field of Ethics and/or Palliative Care.

- c) Active participation in international research networks, fostering collaborations and scientific exchanges.
- d) Development of educational materials for informal caregivers and family members.

5.2.2.4. Career Development Plan

Career development plan, for the next 6 years, on the research to be developed, its contextualization at the Centro de Investigação Interdisciplinar em Saúde (CIIS) and the expected scientific and societal impact, as well as the motivation for those choices (up to 10 pages).

6. Selection Process

The selection process must comply with the ECDI-UCP.

In case of doubt, the panel is entitled to request that candidates present further documentation attesting to their written statements, or to conduct interviews to obtain clarification on elements contained in the application.

Interviews will not constitute a selection method and as such, are not subject to classification.

Failure to submit the requested clarification, information, or documents, within five working days of being requested to do so, determines the dismissal of the application.

Any false statements made or provided by the candidates are punishable by law.

7. Assessment criteria

The assessment criteria are the following: scientific output and its relevance, participation in scientific projects and conferences, student supervision, scientific dissemination activities, knowledge transfer, and other relevant activities and experience, and a career development plan.

The candidate classification shall be given on a scale of 0 to 100. The value shall be calculated considering that, for each item, only those activities relevant to the field of the present call for applications are to be considered, with the following weighting model:

Scientific and curricular background

- a) Scientific and technological output: 35%;
- b) Applied or practice-based research activities: 30%;
- c) Knowledge extension and dissemination activities: 20%;
- d) Career development plan: 15%

8. Tender Selection Panel

Pursuant to the ECDI-UCP and other relevant regulations, the jury shall be formed by:

President of the Jury: Prof. Doctor Ana Mineiro; Faculdade de Ciências da Saúde e Enfermagem da Universidade Católica Portuguesa | Centro de Investigação Interdisciplinar em Saúde (CIIS); Full Professor.

Other members: Prof. Dr. Marlene Barros; Faculdade de Medicina Dentária da Universidade Católica Portuguesa | Centro de Investigação Interdisciplinar em Saúde (CIIS); Full Professor; Prof. Doctor Mohamad M. Saab; Vice Dean of Graduate Studies, School of Nursing and Midwifery - University College Cork; Senior Lecturer; Dr. Dimitri Beeckman; Nursing Science at Örebro University in Sweden and Ghent University in Belgium; Full Professor; Prof. Dr. Lisette Schoonhoven; Chair of Nursing Science and programme lead of the Master of Nursing Science at University Medical Center Utrecht, the Netherlands; Full Professor.

9. Deliberation and publication

The panel shall deliberate based on the adopted and disclosed selection criteria, with no abstentions allowed. Minutes of panel meetings shall be taken. These shall contain a summary of events, as well as details of the votes cast by each of the members and their respective reasoning. After all selection criteria have been applied, the panel shall prepare a ranked list of approved candidates. The panel's final decision shall be approved by the Rector, who shall also approve the hiring of the selected candidate.

The ranked list of approved candidates will be posted at the Porto facilities of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, located at Universidade Católica Portuguesa – Centro Regional do Porto, Rua de Diogo Botelho, 1327, 4169-005 Porto, Portugal and will be published on the website <https://ciis.ucp.pt/>. Candidates will be notified by email once this list has been made available.

10. Preliminary Hearing and Final Decision Deadline

After notification of the results, candidates have ten working days to respond. In the following five working days (counting from the end of the candidates' response period), the panel's final decision is issued.

11. Formalizing applications

Applications are formalized by completing the application form available at <https://hr-ucpporto.inqueritos.porto.ucp.pt/839223?lang=en>.

Applications must be submitted in English.

Applications shall include the following documents:

- a) Curriculum vitae, containing all the relevant information for assessing the application and duly structured in accordance with the requirements of nº 5 of this notice;
- b) Doctoral Certificate with date of admission to the degree, and when applicable, the recognition of the degree;
- c) Declaration of commitment by the candidate to attest that he/she is not the holder of an employment legal relationship of indefinite period in the careers of Scientific Research, University Professor and Professor of Polytechnic Higher Education, and/or without term in national institutions not covered by the Career Statutes;

- d) Document proving that the candidate has been awarded a fixed-term contract or scholarship, as a doctor, at an institution of the National Science and Technology System, on a date prior to the publication of this notice;
- e) Career Development Plan.

12. Application deadline

Candidates may submit their application, pursuant to the terms mentioned in the previous point, from July 29, 2025 until August 24, 2025 (until 5pm, Continental Portugal time).

13. Privacy Policy

Universidade Católica Portuguesa is the controller responsible for the processing of Personal Data in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 – General Regulation on Data Protection.

The personal data submitted within the scope of this tender procedure is processed within the framework of said tender procedure only, and will be treated by Universidade Católica Portuguesa with the purpose of verifying the fulfillment, by the candidates, of the assumptions established in the applicable legislation for their contracting. Opposition to the processing of data by the candidates will make it impossible to accept the application and, therefore, to analyze and evaluate it.

The personal data of the Data Subject, if it be indispensable for the fulfillment of the obligations of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, may be conveyed to third parties, namely to the Financing Entities identified in this announcement.

The data retention period shall correspond to the legally defined period of five years.

The Data Subject is entitled to oppose to the collection and processing of data, has the right to verification, the right to rectification, the right to deletion, and the right to restriction of processing of the data collected.
